Boone Pickens School of Geology Geoscience and Geoengineering TechFest 2023

The student chapter of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists (AAPG) at Oklahoma State University (OSU) is pleased to extend an invitation to our 7th annual Geoscience and Geoengineering TechFest on March 14, 2023. This year, the event will be held in conjunction with the 2023 Geological Society of America South-Central Section meeting in Stillwater, Oklahoma at the Wes Watkins Center on the OSU Campus.

TechFest has historically provided a unique opportunity for undergraduate and graduate students to showcase their research to fellow students, professional geoscientists, and potential employers through a student research poster session followed by a networking dinner. New for 2023, the event will be held in the form of a GSA student poster session followed by a formal dinner with a keynote speaker. The poster session will be open to all students majoring in geoscience and related fields from all universities. Student posters will be located in the International Exhibition Hall (room 112). The networking dinner is designed to allow students the opportunity to network with geoscience professionals, and will take place from 6:00 to 8:00 pm in the Congress Room (room 308E).

We expect the presence of companies representing a wide range of industries including oil and gas, environmental, and hydrogeological. There will be monetary awards for both undergraduate and graduate students who place 1st - 3rd in the poster presentations. Registration for the GSA South-Central Section Meeting will be required for poster presenters, and we encourage everyone to enjoy the conference, short courses, and field trips. For those attending just the TechFest dinner, conference registration will not be required, you just need to RSVP to attend.

We kindly ask that you please RSVP to attend the TechFest dinner, using this link:
